Featured Conference Speakers

MICHAEL ARONIN

A Nationally acclaimed speaker who teaches his audience how to get past personal shortcomings and bullying. Being both a motivational speaker and comedian, he will both entertain and enlighten. Michael has been seen on ABC, CBS, NBC and Fox Television. As a physically challenged member of the business community, Michael provides a new perspective on overcoming obstacles and understanding the hurt that comes along with Bullying

MR. KEVIN JENNINGS

Nationally known Educator, Author and Administrator, Kevin serves as the CEO/President of a non-profit organization entitled "Be the Change." Prior to his current role, Kevin served as the Assistant Deputy Secretary of the United States Department of Education, overseeing the Safe & Drug Free Schools where he immediately took a leadership role in the fight against bullying. In 1997, Newsweek Magazine names Jennings to its "Century Club" of people likely to make a difference in the 21st Century.

Many other comprehensive breakout sessions include;

- Using digital literacy to Combat Bullying
- Empowering, Educating and Engaging your best Bully Defense: YOUTH
- Liability 101 "How NOT to be successfully sued.
- The Reality Television Generation and the Bullying Connection
- Understanding Cyber-Bullying and online Social Networking.
- (MARC) Massachusetts Aggression Reduction Center "What are the National Trends Telling us"?
- Bullying Prevention Success at the District and School Level.
- Kind Matters—Building a School and Community that Cares more, a work in progress.

2012 BULLYING PROGRAM SHOWCASE

In response to the very successful 2011 National Conference on Bullying, conference planners put together a session entitled "Program Showcase", where for 2 hours, attendees will listen to short presentations from their peers about anti-bullying programs that have been successful. The short presentations, will be followed up by the presenters being available for one on one table visits that will hopefully allow attendees to determine if the program might be viable for their school and/or community.
